

Dear parents and guardians of our students,

It is with great joy that we welcome you to our school for a day of unity, bringing together people of various nations and ethnicities that comprise our school community.

We all wish for our students to learn the Greek language, as the significance of learning Greek extends beyond just our children—it also encompasses you, the parents. You serve as the primary examples and chief supporters in the educational journey of our children. Through our participation in learning the Greek language, we demonstrate to our children the importance we place on effective communication and harmonious coexistence, regardless of one's background.

Our students have nothing to divide among themselves. In facing the countless challenges in our lives, it is beneficial for us to stand united as a school community. In our school, children from 29 different countries coexist harmoniously and beautifully. While we may have different colors, religions, and customs, we share common dreams, needs, and aspirations for our children's lives and future.

We hope that this day of love and friendship opens a dialogue between parents, guardians, and educators, creating a bridge of communication that transcends linguistic differences. It is a day to set a positive example for our children, showing them that communication through the acquisition of knowledge, skills, and abilities is a lifelong journey. Furthermore, our active participation in the multicultural space of the school teaches our children to accept each other with respect for their fellow classmates from various countries.

With your active involvement, we support their smooth integration and the development of a multicultural environment that strengthens the community as a whole. It would be our pleasure to receive suggestions from you and encourage you, dear parents and guardians, to actively participate in the school process with your children. Let us build a strong community that supports the learning and development of our children in this multicultural space. We thank you all for your collaboration and support in this important effort that connects our families with our school culture. Let's have a wonderful time together!
